Folks:

Sending this one more time, because Mr. Guastella's e-mail address got garbled with the first transmission. But anyway, here is a corrected transmission.

Thanks,
David Butler

To the Parties:

I wanted to touch base with the participants in Thursday's oral arguments on the ORS Motion to Compel. Tom, Randy Erskine of our office will be e-mailing you to set up a test to make sure you can connect with our system. Andrew and Jack have been with us on proceedings virtually in the past.

All attorneys please call 1-800-541-5555 with access code 123456789 at 9 am on the morning of the oral arguments. You will need to do this in addition to signing in with the Webex information that you will receive, so that you can hear what is going on. We are working on incorporating the sound into the Webex, but have not quite gotten there yet for the lawyers.

As for the proceeding, I wanted to mention that the Commission has not placed a time limit on each attorney's oral argument. However, please use your good judgment on this. BTW, we have four new Commissioners: Carolee Williams, Mike Caston, Hayden B. Thomas, and Dalton W. Powers, Jr. The three veteran Commissioners are Justin Williams, Chairman (Recently returned from Iraq), Florence Belser, Vice Chair, and Commissioner Tom Ervin.

The arguments will proceed as follows, after preliminaries:
 Andrew Bateman of ORS, being the movant, will argue first.
 Jack Pringle, representing the Intervenor Homeowners Associations will argue second.
 Tom Gressette, representing the Utility Respondent, will argue third.
 Andrew Bateman will be allowed to Reply.
 Commissioners will be allowed to ask questions of the participants.

I trust that this information is helpful.

Regards,
David Butler
